DETAILED ACTION

Claims 1-21 are pending in the application.

Election/Restrictions

Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

- I. Claims 1-11, drawn to a modified Cre recombinase gene, a cell comprising said Cre recombinase gene, a tissue, an organ or an animal comprising Cre recombinase gene, classified in class 435, subclass 320.1, class 800, subclass 8.
- II. Claims 13 and 14, drawn to a method of knocking-out a gene from a transgenic animal classified in class 800, subclass 21,
- III. Claims 12, 14 and 15, drawn to a method of knocking-in a gene in a location-controlled manner from a cell, and a transgenic knock-in animal, classified in class 800, subclass 21.
- IV. Claims 16-20, drawn to a transgenic animal from which a second desired gene is knocked-out, and an organ, tissue and cell taken out from the animal, classified in class 800, subclass 21.
- .V. Claim 21, drawn to a method for treating a disease, classified in class 800, subclass 3.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other for the following reasons:

Inventions I and II-V are related as product and process of use. The inventions can be shown to be distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) the process for using the product as claimed can be practiced with another materially different product or (2) the product as claimed can be used in a materially different process of using that product (MPEP § 806.05(h)). In the instant case, the product, a polynucleotide comprising a modified Cre recombinase gene, has other uses besides in the methods mentioned in Groups II-V. For example, the polynucleotide can be used to express Cre recombinase in vitro. Therefore, invention of Group I are patentably distinct from the inventions of Groups II-V.

Inventions II-V are patentably distinct, each from the other because they are drawn to methods that require different starting materials and modes of operation. Each method involves different steps than the others. Therefore, the inventions of Groups II-V are patentably distinct.

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art because of their recognized divergent subject matter, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
